It started with six subjects in Faculty of Arts (B.A.) but now fourteen subjects are functional. The College has branched into 3 faculties. In 2001 Faculty of Commerce was introduced where Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com) is functional and in 2016 Faculty of Vocations was introduced where Bachelor of Vocations (B.Voc) in three trades - Journalism & Mass Communication, Fashion Designing & Embroidery and Software Technology are running successfully. Presently approximately 1000 girl students are enrolled in the College.

The vision of the founders of the College had been to offer quality based modern education as well as to develop the skills of the young generation. The College authorities have paid full attention to this and have been consistently introducing various vocational training programmes. In this present scenario, when higher education is taking a turn through the New Education Policy, the vision of the founders is translated into reality. The B.Voc. Degree Programme in three trades is providing quality based education. Now with the implementation of NEP in the coming session vocational and skill based education will become a part of the conventional subjects also.
